The Story of the search

The initial point of departure on the quest for forbears commenced with the birth of Henry (Harry) McColl for which the birth certificate of April 28, 1902, was available. This revealed that Harry was the son of Malcolm McColl and Martha Brown who had been married June 28, 1901, at St Michael's Episcopal Church, Govan. However, written in red ink across the register was the word 'Divorced'! The address given by Malcolm at the time of his marriage was checked against the census return for 1901 (see below) which revealed the identity of his parents and numerous siblings!

1901

15 West Scotland Street, Kinning Park, Govan.

Name	Relationship to head of family	Age of males	Age of females	Married	Children	Occupation	Birthplace
Henry McColl	Head	43		Married			England
Margaret McColl	Wife		42	Married			Plantation
Malcolm McColl	son	20					Glasgow
Mary	daughter		18				Glasgow
Alexander	son	16					Glasgow
James	son	11					Glasgow
Robert	son	6					Glasgow
John McColl	son	4		single			Glasgow
Margaret McColl	daughter		4	single			Glasgow
Samuel McColl	son	2		single			Glasgow

The 1901 census return allows the calculation of approximate dates of birth for Henry (1858); Margaret (1859); Malcolm (1881); Mary (1883); Alexander (1885); James (1890); Robert (1895); John (1897); Margaret (1897) and Samuel (1899). Family tradition conveyed that Malcolm 'went to his family in Liverpool' after his separation from Martha, and this was confirmed by the 1911 census return (see below).

1911

429 Grafton Street, Dingle, Liverpool, Lancashire.

District: Toxteth Park

Sub- district: Toxteth Park South West

Enumeration district: 20

Name	Relation-ship to head of family	Age of males	Age of females	Married	Children	Occupation	Birthplace
Henry McColl	Head	53		Married		Boilermaker	Carlisle Cumberland
Margaret McColl	Wife		51	Married			Glasgow
Malcolm McColl	son	31		Boarder		Boilermaker	Glasgow
John McColl	son	14		single		Cable messenger	Glasgow
Margaret McColl	daughter		14	single			Glasgow
Samuel McColl	son		12	single			Glasgow

Here, Malcolm is identified as a 'Boarder' with his parents, and his occupation is given as a 'Boilermaker'. Moreover, Henry's place of birth is given as Carlisle. This information lead to the identification of Henry's birth certificate in the English General Register as August 9, 1857, at 10 South George St, Carlisle (it should be remembered that ages derived from the census returns should only be regarded as approximations). Henry's parents were Alexander Campbell McColl and Ann Ivison. Armed with the information from Henry's birth certificate it was possible to locate an 1861 census entry for the family in Carlisle.

1861

56 Union Street, Botchergate, Carlisle.

Name	Relationship to head of family	Age of males	Age of females	Married	Children	Occupation	Birthplace
Alexander McColl	Head	30		Married		Boilermaker	Scotland
Anne McColl	Wife		24	Married			Cumberland, Carlisle
Samuel McColl	son	5		single			Northumberland Shields,
Henry McColl	son	3		single		Scholar	Cumberland, Carlisle
Alexander McColl	son	1		single			Cumberland, Carlisle

In 1861 Henry had two brothers Samuel (born in North Shields, Tyneside) and Alexander. This is strong evidence that the family migrated from Scotland to England, and returned to Scotland and then once more to England! Given this information census entries were sought for the 1891, 1881 and 1871 census returns for Kinning Park, Govan where the families of Alexander Campbell McColl and Henry McColl were successfully identified.

15 West Scotland Street, Kinning Park, Govan.

Name	Relationship to head of family	Age of males	Age of females	Married	Children	Occupation	Birthplace
Henry McColl	Head	33		Married		Boilermaker	England

Margaret McColl	Wife		23	Married			Glasgow
Annie McColl	daughter		3
Malcolm McColl	son	1					Glasgow

1881

46 Plantation Street, Govan.

Name	Relationship to head of family	Age of males	Age of females	Married	Children	Occupation	Birthplace
Alexander McColl	Head	41		Married		Boilermaker	Lismore, Argyleshire
Anne McColl	Wife		46	Married		Domestic	Carlisle, England
John McColl	son	19		single		Ships steward	Carlisle, England
Mary Ann McColl	daughter		9	single			Glasgow
Ann Ivison	Relation		53	Married		Labourer	Carlisle, England

1871

45 Pollok Street, Tradeston, Govan.

Name	Relationship to head of family	Age of males	Age of females	Married	Children	Occupation	Birthplace
Alexander McCall	Head	38		Married		Boilermaker	Lismore, Argyleshire
Anne McCall	Wife		35	Married			England
Henry McCall	son	14		single			England
Alexander McCall	son	12		single			England
John McCall	son	10		single		Scholar	Carlisle, England

The variation in spelling of the surname 'McColl' given as 'McCall' in the 1871 census return is probably attributable to the returning officer writing down what he heard rather than any misidentification. In order to ascertain the marriage of Alexander Campbell McColl and Ann Ivison it is necessary to obtain the birth certificate of one of their children who is born post-1855 (when civil registration begins) and born in Scotland (date and place of parents marriage is not recorded on English marriage certificates). Fortunately, Mary Ann McColl is recorded in the 1881 census return and her birth certificate was obtained. She was born on April 21, 1871, at 45 Pollok Street, Tradeston, Govan. Clearly, she is also the Mary Ann McColl recorded in the 1881 census return for the same address. The certificate also revealed that Alexander Campbell McColl and Ann Ivison were married on March 17, 1855, at Gretna, Dumfriesshire. The date of the marriage occurred in the first year of civil registration in Scotland and a search of the statutory register was made. Unfortunately, no entry was identified. Neither was there an appropriate entry in the English General register in any adjoining administrative districts. One significant fact was that the marriage took place at Gretna, which may indicate that the marriage was 'irregular' and not recorded by civil registration. Ultimately, the marriage certificate was located in the register of irregular marriages for Alison's Bank Toll, Gretna (one of several locations where irregular marriages were performed in this period). Unfortunately, there was very little new information gained from the marriage certificate beyond the fact that Ann was illiterate, but Alexander was not!

Extensive searches were then carried out in the statutory registers in Scotland and the General register in England in order to locate either Alexander's or Ann's death certificate – to no avail! The 1871 census return lists Alexander's place of birth as Lismore, Argyleshire. Lismore is an island off the west coast of Scotland that forms part of the parish of Lismore and Appin. Given the variation in age related information that Alexander had provided to the census enumerators over the years, it appears likely that he was born approximately in the period 1831-40. An extensive search of the Lismore and Appin Old Parish Registers (OPR's) was undertaken and the most likely entry was identified as August 2nd 1828 – a son to Samuel McColl (Parochial Schoolmaster) and Janet Campbell was baptized. Whilst likely, this was by no means certain identification. However, Alexander was in Carlisle in 1861 so could not be in Lismore at the same time – and the 1861 census return for the family of Samuel McColl confirms this (see below).

1861

Killandrist Lismore & Appin Argyle.

Name	Relationship to head of family	Age of males	Age of females	Married	Children	Occupation	Birthplace
Samuel McColl	Head	72		Married		Parochial Schoolmaster	Appin, Argyll
Janet McColl	Wife		60	Married			Lismore, Argyll
Agnes McColl	daughter		36	single		Domestic servant	Lismore, Argyll
Donald McColl	son	30		single		Inspector of the Poor	Lismore, Argyll

Similarly, Alexander married in 1855 so may well have been at home in Lismore in 1851, and indeed is listed in the 1851 and 1841 census returns (see below).

1851

Killeondrist Lismore & Appin Parish (525) Argyle.

Name	Relationship to head of family	Age of males	Age of females	Married	Occupation	Birthplace
Samuel McColl	Head	64		Married	Schoolmaster	Appin, Argyll
Janet McColl	Wife		58	Married		Lismore, Argyll
Angus McColl	son	35			No	Lismore, Argyll
Anne McColl	daughter		28	Unmarried	House servant	Lismore, Argyll
Donald McColl	son	24		Unmarried	No	Lismore, Argyll
Mary McColl	daughter		16	Unmarried	Scholar	Lismore, Argyll
James MacDonald	Grandson	4			Scholar	Lismore, Argyll
Alexander McColl	son	19		Unmarried	Farm servant	Lismore, Argyll

1841

Killeondrist Lismore & Appin Parish (525) Argyle.

Name	Relationship to head of family	Age of males	Age of females	Married	Occupation	Whether born in same country?
Samuel McColl	Head	50			Schoolmaster	Yes
Janet McColl	Wife		30			Yes
Donald McColl	son	15			No	Yes
Magdalene McColl	daughter		10			Yes
Alexander McColl	son	8				Yes
Mary McColl	daughter		6			Yes
Robert Perry		5				Yes

Whilst encouraging, this evidence is at best circumstantial – there is considerable uncertainty over which year Alexander was born. Further, Alexander Campbell McColl seems to entirely disappear from the written record in the late 1880's and yet there is no record of his death in Scotland or England & Wales. This may indicate that he and Ann (and also perhaps some of the younger members of his family) may have emigrated. This certainly appears to be the case as a death certificate was located in the registers of Cambridge, Massachusetts, USA for Ann McColl (Iverson) who died on May 1, 1916. Her address is given as 15 Washington Street, Cambridge, Massachusetts. Further research also uncovered the naturalization papers for Alexander McColl from 1893 also residing in Washington Street. Hence, there can be little doubt that Alexander Campbell McColl and Ann (Iverson) emigrated to the USA in 1888, and resided there for the remainder of their lives. Furthermore the date of birth given on Alexander's naturalization papers is July 31, 1828, which is certainly the same person who was baptized on Lismore August 2nd 1828 the son of Samuel and Janet McColl.

A search of the Lismore & Appin OPR's for the marriage of Samuel and Janet was not successful (the registers only commence from the 1760's). Samuel died in 1862 on Lismore and is buried in Lismore churchyard. His death certificate revealed that his parents were Hugh McColl (Tenant farmer) and Mary McLeran at Kenlochlaigh, Appin.

Directions for further research –

1. The 1900 census return for Cambridge, MA, USA should be accessed to establish further evidence as to the identity of Alexander Campbell McColl.
2. Transcriptions of the monumental Inscriptions in Lismore Churchyard should be sought to try an establish further evidence of (i) the parentage of Samuel McColl (ii) the date and place of marriage between Samuel McColl and Janet Campbell.
3. A search of the GRO for the death certificates of Henry McColl and Malcolm McColl.
4. A search of the index of Wills and Testaments (Scotland).
5. A search of any surviving tenancy agreements for the Kenlochlaigh estate.
